Customer Tests - Sign-out button

| Test Type | Test Case ID | Test Case | Pre-condition | Post-Condition | Test Steps | Expected | Result Actual | Result Status |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Sign Out Button | 1. Immediate sign-out | Test if the sign-out button takes the user to the login screen. | The user needs to sign up and log in with a new account. | The user should be taken to the login page and have all their info removed from the running application. | Click on the settings tab at the top and then click on the sign-out button. | The application should return the user to the login page. | The application returns the user to the login page. | Passed. |
| Sign Out Button | 2. Appointment sign-out | Test if the sign-out button takes the user to the login screen. Additionally, the previous user's appointment should not be seen as the current user's appointment with the same dog. | The user needs to sign up and log in with a new account and have a scheduled appointment with a dog they like. | The user should not be able to see the previous user's appointment as their own. | Click on the settings tab at the top and then click on the sign-out button. Then create a new account and login. Like the same dog the user before had an appointment with. When | The application shows that the user cannot select the same appointment date as the previous user with the same dog and the appointment should not appear as their own. | The application shows that the user cannot select the same appointment date as the previous user with the same dog and the appointment does not appear as their own. | Passed. |

| | | | | | attempting to create an appointment with the dog, the previous user's appointment should appear red and mention busy. | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|